CITATION

ON

JAMES G. GLENN

James G. Glenn is to his community far more than the Minister of the First Presbyterian Church. He is more than the President of the Pastor's Association. He is more than the Chairman of the Department of Recreation of our city. He stands for that which is just and right and holy in a world that has lost many of these honorable attributes. He stands in our community, where he has served longer than any other present minister, as the epitome of the Christian Life. How many citizens, past and present, could testify this day to the unselfish service rendered them by this man of God. He holds high before us the dignity of the Ministry of Jesus Christ. He is beloved, not only by members of his own church, but by countless others in other churches and in no church at all. Sincerity, honesty, devotion to duty. concern for his fellowman, are but words that seek to describe this man who has dedicated his life to make "The Word of Life" speak to our day.

Therefore. we of the Pasyor's Association honor our President with a complimentary copy of the Revised Standard Version of the Holy Bible.
